Cloudy today; probably showers tonight or Friday.

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1887.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1899.

The high school girls with their glossy curls, and cheeks of dainty pink, as they mince along in a laughing throng, look mighty nice, I think. But I'd like to know how cheeks can glow like rosebuds in a bunch, on the daily fare of a stale éclair or a macaroon for lunch.

Basket Ball Notes

MAYSICK VS. MAYSVILLE TONIGHT.

The 1915 basketball season will be ushered in tonight in Maysville when the fast Maysville High School boys' team hooks up with the Mayslick aggregation.

Coach Dale, of the local team, expects to take both games, as his second team is about par with the first quintet. The games will be called at 7:15 sharp, so as to give both games full time. The first team will play the opener and the second bunch will conclude the program. The following squad will be the lucky ones to represent Maysville High School: Roy Hampton, captain; Ed Parker, student manager; Stanley Parker, Gordon Smoot, Clarence Wood, Jr., Cecil Dickson, Charles Kerr, Henry Shea, Charles G. Downing, Giles Rice, John C. Everett, John Glascock, William Giesel, Donnell McNamara, Charles Hancock and John Robert Curry. With this bunch of huskies Coach Dale and the followers of the white and gold hope to pile up a score against the boys of Mayslick that will take several minutes to count. Prof. E. L. Dix, of Mayslick will bring the following squad of players with him: J. Pogue, Spencer Manion, W. Rees Wood, Collogly, H. Rees, T. Pogue, Gaither and Collins.

SUGAR MARKET BOOMING.

The sugar market is booming. During the past month it has increased one cent a pound, which is very unusual for this time of the year.

LISTENING POST IN PARIS

The defenses of Paris against hostile aircraft are well organized. One of the most interesting of the special instruments used is the listening post. It consists of four huge horns which gather up the slightest sound and magnify it by means of a microphone, so that it is impossible for any aircraft to approach unheard.

THE TOTTENS

Last night in the auditorium of the Maysville High School a very large audience was present to see the second number of the Lyceum Course, the Tottens.

To say that every one was pleased is putting it mildly. The entertainment was so far above the ordinary kind of such performances that even the most refined and cultured felt entertained and edified by having been present.

Mr. Totten is a wonderfully clever magician, a past master in the art of impersonation and at all times perfectly at ease, and with a full knowledge of how to "warm up" to a large audience. He was very ably assisted by his daughter and J. H. Richardson. The Lyceum Committee will certainly make no mistake in getting these splendid entertainers for a future performance.

Councilman and Mrs. J. C. Everett, the Misses Dobyns, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Traxel, Mrs. Mike Brown, Mrs. James Kirwin, Messrs. Charles Traxel, Darlington E. Fee, Wadsworth Cole and others from this city attended the matinee of Maude Adams in "The Little Minister," at Cincinnati Wednesday.

SLICK GENTLEMAN

About the slickest individual that the police of this city have ever had to deal with was met Thursday morning.

This individual posed as a drummer of a drink which, when brewed, was a mixture of tea and coffee. Approaching the merchants of this city, he would solicit an order and if he did not receive it, would ask in a polite manner for a slip of paper on which to make a memorandum.

In nine cases out of ten he would receive one of the merchant's billheads. He would then fill this billhead out with a large order and at the next place would show the merchant what the last dealer had bought. On the strength of the argument he would, in the majority of the cases, get an order. If he did not receive an order he again asked for a billhead or a scrap of paper.

After canvassing the city he would send in the real and faked orders and in a few weeks the merchants would receive a shipment from his firm. Should the merchant refuse to take the goods the slip of paper with his name would be produced in court and in the majority of cases the slickest individual would win. All the merchants of this city bit easily and the fake drummer was selling his drink fast until some one put a bug in Chief of Police James Mackey's ear. The chief soon had the slickest drummer in the toils of the law and after consulting City Attorney John Cauboun, found that he could not prosecute him, but that he could send him out of the city. This he did and the slickest individual left for other climes on C. & O. Train No. 3.

The "Win-My-Chum" services at the Third Street M. E. church are increasing in interest nightly. Last night's service was in charge of the Gospel Team of the Epworth League of this church. The topic for discussion was "The Inescapable Harvest," and it was skillfully handled by Mr. Frank Nash.

This evening Rev. Spybey, pastor of the M. E. church at Ripley, O., will speak upon the subject, "Praying Until Something Happens." Mrs. William Tolle will sing.

Every one cordially invited to attend these services.

The trial of John Sloan and Andrew Craig, who engaged in a pitched battle in Traxel's alley Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock, which was set for Wednesday afternoon, was continued until Saturday, as the condition of Craig, who received a broken rib and several cuts about the body, would not permit him to appear in court. Sloan was let out of the county jail Wednesday afternoon on his own recognizance to appear Saturday.

GETS FINE PRICE FOR TOBACCO CROP.

Mrs. Thomas Lalley, of this city, sold her crop of 14,000 pounds of tobacco to a broker of this city Thursday for the record-breaking price of 14 cents a pound. The tobacco is pronounced by all that have seen it to be one of the best crops ever grown in this locality. The crop was grown on Mrs. Lalley's farm near Dover.

The friends of Mrs. George T. Barbour will be glad to learn that the serious surgical operation performed upon her in New York was entirely satisfactory.

On Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Miss Bertha Pumpelly and Mr. Laytham Clift were quietly married at the home of the bride by Rev. W. T. Eckler, of Germantown, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was beautifully attired in a dark blue traveling suit with hat to match, and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid, Miss Etta Disher, cousin to the bride, was charmingly gowned in a dark blue suit.

The groom wore the conventional black. He was attended by his friend, Mr. Richard Dougherty, of Mayslick. The house was artistically decorated with a profusion of smilax, ferns, honeysuckle, red roses and autumn leaves. This was done by the groom's sister, Miss Anna Prather Clift.

Immediately after the ceremony amid the showers of rice and old shoes the happy couple left for Maysville, where they boarded a train for a trip through Central Kentucky. They will be at home in Mayslick after December 1.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stears, Mr. and Mrs. John Laytham, Miss Anna Prather Clift and Mr. George Disher, of Mayslick; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pumpelly, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pumpelly and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hall, of Germantown.

It is said that Dodson attacked Hazel, the 10-year-old daughter of Filmore Dodson, his cousin, Saturday afternoon. In fear of his threats the little girl did not tell any one until Thursday, when her mother learned the truth. A warrant was sworn out and Dodson was placed under arrest and lodged in jail. The feeling against him in Fernleaf is very high, and several threats of mob violence have been made. He will have a hearing this afternoon and if found guilty will be held over to the December term of the Mason Circuit Court.

Daughter Swears Out Warrant Against Father, Charging Him With Incest.

The 15-year-old daughter of Oscar Morgan, of Morgan's alley, in the West End, appeared before Judge W. H. Rice Thursday afternoon and swore out a warrant against her father, charging him with incest. Armed with the warrant, Officers Dudley Bloomhuff and Dudley Fizer went to the Morgan home Thursday evening about 8 o'clock and placed the man under arrest. He was taken to police headquarters, where he was offered release on bond, but being unable to obtain same, was lodged in jail. A hearing will be given him today and if the evidence warrants, he will be held over to the December term of the Circuit Court. "JUST A NEWSPAPER STORY."

No newspaper man can hear the statement, "It's just a newspaper story," without some feeling of resentment. The sentence, often spoken thoughtlessly or to characterize a statement that one does not want to believe, is an unpleasant reflection on the work of men who, for the most part, are ever doing their utmost to ascertain the facts. In this work, they are often hampered, but by nothing more often than by the thoughtlessness of informants and sometimes by their desire to misrepresent the facts. Unhappily, too, there are persons who think things and say things which when in print they regret having said and escape responsibility for them by blaming the reporter or interviewer. They thus contribute to the sentiment found in the phrase, "just a newspaper story."

It may be at once taken for granted that the average newspaper reporter is the most unbiased of all observers or auditors. It is his business to get the truth and to the best of his ability to state it. If he fails in that, he is lacking in the first requisite of a good reporter. Today, more than ever before, it is the newspaper business in all that it prints to tell the truth; and if there is any actual failure on its part, it is chiefly because the truth has not all developed or because the source of the information is unreliable. Of this latter a reporter comes with experience to judge, but there are always some new informants upon whom some chance must in the necessary hurry be taken. So, it is no more than fair for every person who uses the phrase, "just a newspaper story," to ask just how much he and others not in the newspaper business have contributed in one way or another to its creation. —Columbus Dispatch.

THE LIMIT OF TECHNICALITY.

Setting fire to a stock of merchandise for the purpose of launching what popularly is known as a "fire sale" is held at the capital not to be arson in the strict interpretation of the charge, nor is it yet an action prejudicial of an insurer. Governor Willis, in approving the recommendation of the Pardon Board for the release of a Lorain merchant sent to the penitentiary for such an incendiary act apparently agrees with the legal finding of that body that the offense is technical and not real. The fire, said the defendant, was itself a fraud, and not intended to damage the insured goods. But does not the query remain whether the now freed convict was guilty of an attempted fraud upon the community in which he did business? There is also provided the speculation whether this successful defense will not hereafter be adopted by the sharpers who prey upon legitimate merchandising as well as upon the credulity of the people by conducting these deceptive enterprises. The subject recalls the celebrated Kankakee joke defense of a pickpocket. If his intended victim detected his operations the thief returned the property with the explanation that his action was a joke. If the victim did not, the thief kept the plunder. Its application to the dishonest dealer who starts fires as a preliminary to fleecing the public is obvious. —Enquirer.

In spite of the war, exportations from London to the United States go merrily on under the Democratic tariff. During the nine months ending September 1915, goods to the value of $104,000,000 left London for this country, compared with $98,000,000 for the corresponding period in 1914. These export values. To these values may be added incidental and overhead charges, and the duties paid in this country, the whole being the amount of displacement of American goods of a similar kind.

Is it not rather remarkable that none of the great maritime nations have ever had to go into the shipping business as a governmental activity in order to develop their merchant marine? Yet Mr. Adoo seems to think that we must do so.

THE GREATNESS OF YOU.

There was a clever article in a trade bulletin issued in October by a Boston firm, the Seamans & Cobb Company, which is reproduced below:

"You, Mr. Owner, of a human life, are the greatest man in the world. The payment of a few cents for a stamp places at your service a postal system that encircles the globe.

"For 5 cents a fifty-million-dollar subway is offered for your use, and while you ride you are protected by every device discovered by human ingenuity.

"You desire to dash across a continent, and the payment of a few dollars—representative, perhaps, of a few hours' work—calls billions of dollars, thousands of men, miles of protected track into use for your pleasure.

"You spend a few pennies and there comes to you the news of what the world is doing and thinking—that modern Mercury, the triumph of all time, the daily newspaper.

"You wish to hear the voice of a far-away friend, and the marvelous network of wires—the master telephone system—is your slave.

"The ocean is tamed and made your servant by monster steamships whose comforts are yours for a pittance.

"In the fields millions are toiling to supply you with food, and in the cities countless thousands are serving as ministers to your comfort. Fishermen brave the perils of the sea, miners delve deep in the earth, explorers plunge into the jungles—all for you.

"Aladdin with his wonderful lamp, Midas, with his touch of gold, Alexander with the world under his feet—their powers were as the powers of children, whereas your power is the power of a giant.

"P. S.—What are you doing to pay for it all?"

It is now given out at Washington that the President, in addition to a continuance of the duty on sugar, may ask Congress to restore the duty on wool. Of course there will be any number of schemes to pull the wool over the voter's eyes.

The story that Wilson led a recent cabinet meeting in prayer is easily believable. When he looked the crowd over he realized that he needed higher and better guidance than they could give.

A Chicago banker says that even a European war is not big enough to hide the blunders of the Democratic party and that it will require a cataclysm of nature to do that.

King Pete of Serbia declares that he will die game. No objections being heard, Pete is authorized to proceed with the obsequies.

Fun---Well Done

CRASS CARELESSNESS.

The holiday traffic was at its height, and there were the usual piles of passengers' luggage on the platform of a great London terminus. In the usual way, the porters were hanging it about, while the owners mournfully looked on.

Suddenly the station master appeared, and, approaching one of the most vigorous baggage-smashing porters, shouted in stern tones:

The passengers pinched themselves to make sure that they were not dreaming, but they returned to earth when the official added:

An Application.

"Ye'll excuse me, captain," said O' Harrity, addressing the commander of the battleship, "but it is true that at costs siven hundred dollars to fire one of them guns?"

"Yes, O' Harrity," said the captain. "Why do you ask?"

"Oi t'ought Oi might save you some money, sorr," said O' Harrity. "Sure, and Oi'll fire 'em for you for twinty."

Where Nature Makes Life Worth Living

Speaking of an ideal life, there is nothing better or more independent than a life on a well regulated farm in a prosperous section of the country.

In the cities and towns we are engaged in a constant game of competition one with another, always confronted with the possibility that the commercial rise of the other fellow means our own downfall. But not so on the farm, where every man is a life and a producer and a consumer unto himself.

The farmer raises his grain, and his foodstuffs, and his hogs and cattle and chickens and eggs, and by his own efforts alone his table is supplied the year around and his surplus gives a sufficiency for those articles not produced on his own acreage. It makes no material difference to him whether his neighbor is successful or a failure, for the rapid rise of one does not necessarily imply the financial disintegration of another.

Hard times and panics may sweep over the land, strewn the path of life with the corpses of the commercial wrecks, but the farmer moves steadily onward and is the last man on earth to feel the pinch of want. His crops continue to grow and thrive, his stock fattens and becomes meat for his table, his fields and his gardens furnish him the sustenance of life, and he feels, as he is, the one man on all of this earth who is absolutely independent of all other men or combinations of men.

When the country is staggering under the weight of depression, and buying is slow and prices are down, he still has the satisfaction of knowing that his own table will be well supplied while people in cities and towns

HERE'S THE SIMPLE MOTORCYCLE.

One hundred and fifty-dollars will buy more motorcycle now than ever before. The introduction of a new principle in motorcycle motor design has resulted in simpler, lighter and cheaper machines, and there are those who believe that the tendency toward these less speedy mounts will serve to bring many into motorcycle ranks who heretofore have feared either the price, the speed or the poundage of the heavyweight twins.

The new type of motor is called a two-cycle, because it has one power impulse for every revolution of the crank shaft as against one impulse for every two revolutions in the four-cycle motor. The two-cycle has been aptly termed the "single with the twin impulse."

Aside from this quite evident advantage which makes possible the elimination of one cylinder without impairing the smooth running of the motor, the two-cycle has one other feature that commends it to the motorcyclists. There is not a valve in it; in fact, the crank, the connecting rod and the piston are the only movable parts. The ports for the intake and exhaust of the gases all are opened and closed by the piston itself. This, too, tends toward reduced weight and simplicity. And the two-cycle needs no separate oiling system, the lubricant being mixed directly with the gasoline and fed through the carburetor with the fuel. Thus, oil pumps, pipes and tanks are done away with.

It would seem that the motorcycle manufacturers are on the right road to produce a machine which is the acme of simplicity, easily handled, capable of going anywhere—for most of them are provided with two and three-speed gears—cleanly and low priced. Machines of this type ought to do much to remove the quite general impression held by the layman that the motorcycle is a "dirty, noisy, speed contraption."

Chocolate Fig Cream.
Scald two cupsful of rich milk, add two squares of chocolate that have been melted over hot water, two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and a tiny pinch of ground cinnamon. Cook until well thickened and remove from the fire, and when cold fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg and half a pint of cream that has been beaten solid with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Flavor with vanilla and turn into a two-quart freezer. Turn the crank until a slight resistance is felt, then add one large cupful of finely-chopped figs. Continue freezing until smooth and serve in tall crystal glasses, each portion topped with a tablespoonful of sweetened whipped cream.

We hear many people deprecate a life on the farm because of the hard work and long hours it entails, but these same people seem to overlook the fact that there is no other business in life which does not require its labor and its toil and its brain racking and nerve destroying race in competition with others of its kind. And always before those engaged in commercial pursuits is the dreaded spectre of hard times or stragulation at the hands of a successful competitor.

Young men of today who are comfortably settled on the farm, or are just completing their education preparatory to a life career, should remain right where they are and never leave the green fields of the country. The great cities will offer them white lights, and dissipation, and debauchery, and failure in nine cases out of ten, and death will find them wishing to God they had never strayed from the comforts of the old fireside. But not so the country. It offers them a life of freedom and manhood and usefulness, with plenty to eat and to wear, and health, happiness and a clear conscience.

Now that the summer's work is over and the time is at hand when young men begin to long for the gaieties of city life, we suggest that you spend your idle moments in studying the latest and most improved methods of farming. Thumb over the pages of your farm journals, and the bulletins of the agricultural schools, and perfect yourself for a winning fight in extracting greater wealth from the Mother Earth, the source from which all wealth springs. Stick to the farm. It is the greatest spot on earth.

SOME CLOSE ELECTIONS

(Times-Star.)

The closeness of the election between Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, and A. O. Stanley, Democrat, for Governor of Kentucky, and the prolonged uncertainty and volume of contradictory claims from many sections of the State, recall other close elections in the Bluegrass State. The closest election ever known in Kentucky was in 1896, when McKinley carried the State over Bryan by the narrow margin of 281. In that election McKinley received 218,171 votes and Bryan 217,890. In Presidential elections, the vote is not cast for the candidate, but for Presidential electors. In thousands of instances voters instead of voting the straight ticket stamped opposite the name of the candidates for elector. The result was that many voted for a great lot of electors, and so extensively was this done, that the highest Democratic elector received more votes than the hindmost Republican elector, and the electoral college cast twelve votes for McKinley and one for Bryan.

The Goebel-Taylor contest of 1899, which threw the State into a turmoil of excitement, was the closest race for Governor known up to that time, Taylor's majority being 2,281. The vote was Taylor, 193,714; Goebel 191,231. Taylor was unseated following a contest in the House of Representatives, which was Democratic.

USE PAPER JARS FOR JELLY

Have Advantage of Being More Easily Packed Without Danger of Breaking.

The paper family, already so helpful to the housewife, has a new member included in its circle—the paper jelly glass. It is of paraffin paper, like the drinking jar, and comes in several sizes, from two ounces to 16 ounces. The eight-ounce size costs about 15 cents a dozen. The advantage of the paper jar is that it can be packed more easily without danger of breaking and with less weight than the heavy glass jars. Again, there are many times when we want to give a glass of jelly to a friend and when we do not like to ask for the return of the glass. Yet the cost of many glasses is quite an item as contrasted with the cost of the paper tumbler. Also we often want to take a glass of jelly to a picnic and then we do not want the weight and bother of a heavy container. Here is where the paper cup has a distinct and permanent place with the housewife.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had In Maysville

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

Mrs. John Burns, Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and kidney trouble. They came on every three or six months and at times I was confined to bed and almost helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick benefit. Since then when I have noticed slight return attacks of backache, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to quickly relieve the trouble."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Burns said: "The statement I gave before praising Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this medicine acts as represented."

GIVE EWES ATTENTION

Too Much Importance Cannot Be Placed on Feeding.

Late Summer Is Trying Time on Breeding Animals—Necessary for Best Results to Keep Flock in Vigorous Condition.

(By W. M. KELLY.)

It has been my experience in handling breeding ewes that one cannot place too much importance upon planning their feeding and management, so that by the time the mating season arrives the ewes will be in vigorous, flesh-forming condition. It is a serious mistake to have the breeding ewes in a poor, run-down and unthrifty condition at mating time.

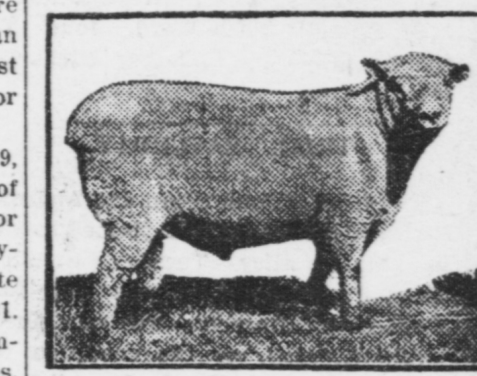

The late summer is a very trying time on the breeding ewes; and unless a man maintains the flock in strong, vigorous condition, deleterious influences are bound to creep in and cut down the annual profits. It is very desirable at weaning time to have an abundance of pasture and supplemental forage crops so that the ewes may be able to recover their normal condition gradually and be ready to be mated as soon as the mating period arrives.

The ewes that produce the best lambs at weaning time are usually the best breeders in the flock and should be given the best food and care. Right here many flock owners make a mistake by disposing of the ewes that show a lack of condition before the mating season arrives.

Ewes that have suckled their lambs well during the summer are sure to be reduced in flesh at weaning time, and every effort should be made to bring them to a strong, vigorous condition before the mating season arrives.

The safest way to judge the value of a breeding ewe is to examine the quality of the lambs at weaning time. In nine cases out of ten we shall find that the best lambs belong to the individuals which are run down in flesh and show a lack of condition when weaning time comes.

Many make a mistake by feeding the ewes a ration of fat-producing foods to hurry along their condition.

During the late summer and early autumn the flock owner should not depend too much upon natural pasture. At this time of year it is impossible to produce good pasture of any kind unless preparations have been made early in the season by sowing forage crops.

With good pasture and forage crops and the addition of a very little grain food, the ewes can be kept in a vigorous, flesh-forming condition until the mating period arrives.

Corn Dumplings.

Mix the contents of one pint can of fresh, grated corn with one-half pint of milk, six tablespoonfuls butter, two eggs, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-half pint flour or enough to make a dough that is easily handled, one teaspoonful of baking powder. If corn is juicy, drain, tear off some pieces of the dough the size of a butternut and roll between the palms of hands, drop into smoking hot fat and cook until nicely browned. Serve with tomato or brown sauce.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

If you want apples to keep well, pick them on bright, cool days.

Remember the hogs need charcoal worse than you need tobacco.

The new, stored corn should be well ventilated or it may mold.

Calves like to use their teeth. That is why the orchard is no place for them.

Keep selecting and pushing the hogs off to market as soon as they are fit.

There is no need of a henhouse being any higher than one can stand in without bumping his head.

Dairymen can well afford to keep close to home when foot-and-mouth disease is running wild.

Keeping all sizes of pigs and hogs together is responsible for the creation of thousands of unprofitable runs.

Provide some shelter in the fall pasture for the cows to reach when they naturally need it.

The time to cut alfalfa for hay is when small roots are beginning to appear at the base.

DO NOTS FOR CHURCHMEN.

Don't try to lift up by looking down.

Don't forget that there is a prayer in every good act.

Don't try to help the world with holiness that hurts you.

Don't fail to learn that sorrow is the best teacher of sympathy.

Don't imagine yourself a saint because your neighbors would be relieved to have you go to glory.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Horse Breaks Cow's Legs.

(Dover News.) Sunday morning, when Mr. Charley Pickering, of South Higginsport, went to the barn and opened the door to turn out a horse, the animal dashed through the doorway and bowled over a cow standing near, breaking both her hind legs.

Great Feundity.

(Richmond Register.) Mr. George Dozier sold a mule colt court day for $90. This colt is out of a mare 23 years old, which has had twenty colts, all of which have brought prices between $75 and $100. This is an unusual record, which we have never heard before.

Petrified Fowl.

(Hart County News.) George Jones, of the Wine Sap country, showed us the petrified head of some fowl that he found a few days ago in a spring branch, that may have lived hundreds or thousands or possibly millions of years ago. It was about the size of a man's little finger and about two-thirds as long.

The Boss Kershaw.

(Tribune Democrat.) L. C. Tackett, of Piqua, raised the champion kershaw produced in this section the last season. The neck measures nineteen inches in length and sixteen inches in circumference. This kershaw is straight and perfect in form. Mr. Tackett raised a fair crop of kershaws the last season, as well as about 6,000 pounds of tobacco and about 300 bushels of corn. He has about eighteen bushels of wheat this fall.

Peculiar Accident.

(Shelby Record.) W. C. Winlock, former cashier of the Bank of Finchville, suffered a painful injury to his right hand last Wednesday while feeding a cider mill on his farm near Finchville. Some apples became clogged in the machine, and Mr. Winlock attempted to remove them with a small stick. The stick slipped and in endeavoring to catch it, the glove on his right hand caught in the cogs and pulled his hand into the machinery. One finger was badly mangled, but fortunately Dr. Harmon Nash, who resides with Mr. Winlock, was at home, and gave the injury immediate attention, and it is not believed that he will lose the member.

Marries Third Sister.

(Hopkinsville Kentuckian.) Mrs. Ida Griffin Oliver and B. B. Johnson, both of Fairview, who were married at Dawson Springs Wednesday, will make their home at Fairview. The bride is the widow of John T. Oliver and the groom is a Fairview merchant. This is the second marriage of the bride and the groom's fourth, two of his former wives having been sisters of his latest bride.

Loses Sight of Eye.

(Shelby Sentinel.) J. Salinger, a prominent dry goods merchant of this city, lost the sight of his right eye through the rupture of one of the small blood vessels in the back portion of the eyeball. He had no warning and felt no pain, and was engaged at his store in his usual duties when the attack came. Dr. A. O. Pfingst, of Louisville, was called in Tuesday in consultation with his local physicians. He expressed the hope that the absorption of the blood clot that causes the trouble may remove the affliction.

Valuable Dog.

(Lancaster Central Record.) Mr. V. A. Lear always knew that he possessed a valuable dog in Fido, but he never realized his financial worth until last week when he refused a cash offer of $165 for him. Fido is considered by every one to be the best driver that was ever known and often shows human intelligence while performing these duties. Mr. Lear says that he can do the work of six boys or men and is always glad to do it. He will go ahead and stand in a lane or gate that he sees open and never allows one to go through. Mr. Lear is justly proud of Fido.

Fine Walnut Timber.

(Bourbon News.) Mr. Ossain Edwards, of Paris, yesterday closed a deal with Mr. W. E. Hilber, of Lexington, for the purchase of 150 fine black walnut logs, which he will ship to Berlin, Germany in the export trade. The price paid for the timber was not given out, but it is said to have been a very large one. Mr. Edwards' purchase was made in a spirited competition with buyers from Louisville, Lexington, Cincinnati and New York. The timber was taken from Mr. Hilber's farm near Paris, from where it will be shipped to New York for its long ocean journey.

DOES BASEBALL FOLLOW THE FLAG?

New York—Does baseball—one step in rear of the constitution—follow the flag? United States marine corps representatives say that it does, and old B. B. is the greatest single factor in captivity for the perpetuation of peace, according to their views.

The bat, ball and glove form part of a marine's expeditionary equipment, and it has been said that he carries baseball paraphernalia in his knapsack side by side with implements of a more serious nature. The marine has been sent to all parts of the world on errands of duty, and everywhere he has carried the irresistible game with him. But, unlike other missionaries carrying the good work in dark places, he hasn't gotten himself into trouble through it, and he rates the glorious old pastime as 100 per cent efficient in the cause of peace.

A grizzled old "soldier of the sea," who has played the game in every climate, gave expression yesterday to the following when interviewed at the Brooklyn Marine Barracks: "Canned Caruso or the Symphony in F may have charms to soothe the savage breast, but when it comes to 'piping down' a hostile 'hombre' in his native lair, show him a man on a third in the ninth inning with two down, and the score a tie. We've done it in China, Guam, the Philippines, Alaska and everywhere that a man may go, and it has always made for peace. Give your Uncle Sammel a few thousand more marines with plenty of good baseball players to fill the ranks, and the warring nations of the world will be cemented closer together with the bonds of true sportsmanship."

Date Pudding. One cupful soda, one cupful sirup, one small spoonful butter, one pound dates, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful nutmeg, salt, enough whole wheat flour to form batter. Stone the dates and cut into halves. Mix ingredients with flour enough to make stiff batter and pour into deep greased mold and steam two and a half hours. Serve cold with cream and sugar.—Mother's Magazine.

Thousand Isle Salad Dressing. One-half cupful olive oil, juice of half an orange, one-fourth teaspoonful each salt and mustard, juice of one lemon, one teaspoonful grated onion, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, one teaspoonful finely chopped parsley. Put all ingredients in a mason jar and shake well.

DOING UP THE DAINTY FROCK

Work May Be Successfully Done at Home if One is Willing to Take a Little Trouble.

Now the art of the "Blanchisseuse de lin," as the French call their very cleverest washer-women, is not a secret process at all, but it well within the comprehension of anybody who is willing to take a little trouble, so why not save a considerable sum of money by "doing up" the best frocks at home?

The secret lies in first carefully washing a delicate frock in the ordinary manner and then rinsing it through water in which a little gum arabic has been dissolved in proportion of a piece about half the size of a nutmeg to a gallon and a half of water. You come across any sports and you do not know what caused them, dip an old, clean toothbrush or nailbrush in kerosene and scrub the spot lightly with this, and nine times out of ten the kerosene will remove the spot without further effort, and the odor always evaporates when the dress is washed.

To keep delicately tinted wash dresses from fading, a little care must be used. They should never be hung in the sun, but should be dried in the shade or in the house. You can keep green cottons or linens from fading by adding half a cupful of vinegar to 2½ gallons of water and dipping the frock in this and letting it drip dry in the shade. Half a cupful of salt used in the same way will fix the color of pale blue dresses or washable mourning materials.

PRETTY FRAME FOR PICTURE

Inexpensive Article That May Easily Be Made at Home in the Spare Moments.

A pretty and inexpensive picture frame is made out of molding. This can be bought for a few cents at any dealer in lumber. Cut the molding into the lengths desired, cutting each corner on a slant as is shown in the illustration. Nail pieces together with fine wire finishing nails. Then on the back of the frame tack narrow strips of thin material about three-eighths of an inch from the inside of frame. Next stain frame any color desired. When dry place in the piece of glass which should be the right size to fit inside the little strips which were tacked onto the back. Then put in the picture and tack strips of veneer across the back to little strips which hold glass in place. Now put in two small screw eyes and through these the wires by which to hang the picture and the job is complete.

To get the corners of the frame cut on the right slant it is best to use a miter box which can be borrowed from any carpenter.

FASHION'S FANCIES

Even reds, plums, browns and greens are dark and soft. Tan-colored beads are seen on some of the tan-serve suits. Bell sleeves are among the most charming of the new styles. Marquise is much favored in combination with taffeta. India leather is used for handbags—white, black and colored. Charming wash dresses for little girls are made of cotton crepe. One of the most useful suits for out-of-town wear is white corduroy. The tendency to a close fit shows in coats as well as dress bodices. Very wide girdles are seen on autumn dresses. Vests and pocket flaps give a suggestion of Louis XVI fashions.

DO NOT SLIGHT LEFTOVERS.

Take any bits of leftover meat, put through a meat chopper, season and mix with egg, and form into cutlets, place half an almond cut lengthwise at the small end to represent the cutlet bone. Dip in egg and fry. Place a cauliflower in the center of the dish and pile the cutlets around and serve. Serve with a meat sauce.

A small piece of cheese, if grated, will add flavor to any number of dishes. It is good in escalloped potato, in escalloped cabbage, adds to the flavor of milk toast and may be sprinkled over lettuce which has been dressed with French dressing. A little grated cheese added to an omelet is an improvement.

A dainty cracker to serve with a salad course is prepared by heaping grated cheese on the crackers, sprinkle with salt and cayenne and then toasting in the oven.

Sour cream dressing, using cream, salt and a dash of cayenne served on young green onions is a dish not half well enough known.

Sour cream may be used to enrich any boiled salad dressing or used as above on other vegetables like cucumbers or tomatoes.

A tablespoonful of leftover peas with a few cold potatoes will make a most appetizing salad to serve for Sunday night supper.

Stale bits of bread may be used as crumbs for various dishes, as croquettes, as bread puddings with fruit or custard, as filling with nuts for peppers, or baked potatoes; in fact in thousands of ways bits of bread may be utilized. Not a crumb should be wasted, even the crumb tray should be emptied for the little shreds.

Pieces of cake may be soaked in fruit juice, put in layers in a baking dish, and baked. Served hot with cream.

Orange peel and lemon peel may be used to flavor sauces, removing the peeling before serving.

Rock Cakes. Rub three cupfuls of sifted flour with three ounces of butter. Add a quarter of a cupful of granulated sugar, three ounces of currants, an ounce of candied peel, cut in shreds, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a beaten egg, some grated nutmeg and milk, enough to make a stiff dough. Put on a greased tin in rough little piles, 12 or 15 of them. Bake for 25 minutes.

Creamed Codfish. Soak the fish three hours; boil in fresh water until tender; pick out all the bones; take one pint of milk and bring to the boiling point; thicken with a tablespoonful of cornstarch, dissolved in a little water, add a spoonful of butter, then stir in the fish, a good, large cupful or a little more; add two well-beaten eggs, let them cook and serve very hot.

How a Camden Electrician Recovered

Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep-seated cough, a run-down system and my lungs were awfully weak and sore. I was an electrician by occupation, and my cough kept me awake nights so I thought at times I would have to give up. I tried everything everybody suggested and had taken so much medicine I was disgusted. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to give it a trial. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The soreness is all gone from my lungs, I do not have any cough and have gained 15 lbs. in weight and I am telling my friends that Vinol did it."—FRANK HILLMAN, Camden, N. J.

Vinol succeeds because it removes the deep-seated cause—by building up the whole constitutional system. Vinol contains the two most efficient tonics—peptonate of iron and all the medicinal elements found in the cod's liver, but no oil. Delicious to taste, agrees with every one.

REPUBLICAN

May Be Secretary of State—Lewis Leading Hamlett By 117 Votes

Louisville, Ky., November 11.—With official returns from 114 counties, and with estimates from the others based on the Stanley-Morrow vote, Barksdale Hamlett, Democrat, is 117 votes behind J. H. Lewis, Republican, in the race for Secretary of State.

A recertification of the returns from Hart county received this morning by Secretary of State Creelius increased Lewis' majority over Barksdale Hamlett for Secretary of State in that county ninety-one votes.

Returns received this morning in the Secretary of State's race were: Hart, Hamlett 1,604, Lewis 185; Laurel, Hamlett 860, Lewis 2,037; Muhlenberg, Hamlett 2,055, Lewis 3,199.

In the Governor's race—For Stanley: Hart 1,621, Laurel 943, Muhlenberg 2,272; Morrow: Hart 1,834, Laurel 2,067, Muhlenberg 3,336.

Judge Fryer held that any other course would be to make of elections a farce and ordered precinct officers to reassemble and complete their duties, counting all the contested votes as cast.

It developed today that the net gains of the Republican ticket will be but ninety-seven votes instead of 127, as at first believed, because of other discrepancies discovered in disputed ballots.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Thursday evening, shortly after 8 o'clock, some of the machinery used in building the big lock and dam above this city, was wrecked in an unknown manner. Two workmen, Bert Lupie and Peter Grosse, were pinned under the wreckage and sustained serious injuries. One of the men had his leg so badly mangled that it may have to be amputated, while the other received serious injuries about the abdomen. Both were removed to the Hayswood Hospital, where operations were performed in an effort to save their lives. News from their bedside this morning states they are doing as well as could be expected. Just how the accident occurred is not known. An investigation is being made by the contractors.

OVERRULES DEMURRER

To Republicans' Petition, and Judges Must Give Evidence—First Legal Victory For Morrow.

Paducah, Ky., November 11.—Judge Fryer, of Pendleton county, sitting in the McCracken county election contest, today overruled the Democratic counsel's demurrer to the petition of the Republicans and summoned before him the election judges from the precincts where votes are in dispute to give evidence concerning the votes cast and their action in returning them uncounted.

The Democrats had contended that under the law election judges could not now be heard.

BAILOTS THROWN OUT.

London, Ky., November 11.—The Laurel county board of election commissioners met yesterday and the election officers from the five precincts which sent in the twelve ballots marked "questioned ballots" being present, the boxes were opened and the questioned ballots were passed upon by the commissioners. The commissioners agreed that they were spoiled and they were not counted.

Ironton Register: Details of one of the most remarkable fish catches in the history of the Ohio valley were brought to light following the arrival here Monday of the steamer Tacoma. The story was related by Mate Alex. Shaw and was confirmed by other officers of the boat. According to the story, the Tacoma was steaming along at a rapid gait a short distance below Gallipolis when the crew was startled by hearing a crash from the stern of the boat and on rushing in that direction they were amazed to see the big paddles literally scooping fish from the river by scores and throwing them up on the deck. Finally the wrecked remains of an enormous fishbox was piled on the deck in the midst of the squirming fish. Recovering from their astonishment, the crew fell hastily to work and salient two fine-sized catfish and seventy-two fish were rescued from the deck. The fish were cooked and served to the crew and passengers, who all vouched for the truth of the story. Mate Shaw said the wheel had evidently struck a floating fishbox and that the fish and box had been thrown upon the guards.

Rev. J. M. Evans returned home Thursday from Wilmore, where he has been conducting a protracted meeting. The congregations were the largest he has seen for many years. The interest of the members of the different churches was far beyond what is ordinarily seen in such meetings. There were twenty-two additions on confession of faith to the Presbyterian church.

STOCK, CROP, LAND.

I. N. Keefe, of Curbetston, Pa., has harvested 2,000 bushels of corn from sixteen acres. A field of 125 bushels to the acre.

James Wood, a tobacco grower, of Blue Lick Springs, recently sold his crop of 6,000 pounds of tobacco at an average of $13 per 100 pounds.

At a recent sale of Clydesdales, held in Scotland, twenty-five sold at an average of $318.50, and the top price was $866.50, for Dunure Lassie, a 4-year-old daughter of Auchenflower. Seventeen foals sold at an average of $277.

James Ralls and J. H. Marr, of near Millersburg, recently sold to H. N. Rankin, of Carlisle, the fancy pair of 2-year-old mare mules that took first premium at the Kentucky State Fair. The price was not made known.

The nation's principal farm crops this year are worth about $5,000,000,000, exceeding by more than $500,000,000 their value in 1914, the previous banner value year in the country's crop history, according to statistics announced by the Department of Agriculture.

At Lexington, Saturday, Joe S. Hawkins sold to W. H. Baker, of Louisville, the yearling black filly by Ballot out of Wing Ting, for the reported price of $3,500. The filly was shipped with seventeen other Baker yearlings to Louisville Saturday night. R. L. Baker purchased Syrian from G. W. J. Bissell. No price was given. Superintendent James P. Ross, of the Kentucky Association, purchased Busy and Polarine, for the State Racing Association, to be turned over to the Breeding Bureau.

Harry Williams, of Buffalo, Ill., has purchased of Allie G. Jones, of North Middletown, the 2-year-old colt, Beauchamp, for the substantial sum of $1,500. This colt was the champion 2-year-old saddle colt of the season and was undefeated, his victories including the great 2-year-old saddle stake at the Blue Grass Fair, where he defeated the great 2-year-old mare, Kathryn Haynes. Beauchamp is sired by the great Bourbon King, probably the most successful sire of the season, and has for his dam Margaret Weislinger, one of the greatest living mares, and he should prove a valuable sire for Illinois.

CLOSING WEAK SCHOOLS.

Last winter the Legislature of West Virginia—let us say all we truthfully can for it—passed a law which promises great good to the rural schools of the State. This law provides for the closing of all schools with an average attendance of less than ten pupils. Moreover, it automatically closes any school, even in the middle of the term, when its average attendance falls below ten.

This law will shut up 500 weak rural schools and release for the school purposes of the stronger schools about $200,000 which it formerly cost to run them. This money, saved by closing the small schools, may be used in transporting such children as live so far away as to make it necessary, or it may be put to such other uses as the school boards may determine.

The rural school which is continually gasping for life, and quite dead whenever the weather is bad, should be in this way mercifully chloroformed. The larger school should give the pupils a fuller school life and make the rural teacher a bigger job. And that's what she needs.—Farm and Fireside.

This article and argument is used for consolidated schools. We are in favor of consolidation, but not at the expense of the first up to fifth grade pupils.

In many districts the little fellows who are starting to school for the first time are frequently compelled to ride from five to eight miles. Frequently the drivers of these wagons are boys or men who are wholly incompetent to control the pupils in his charge. The little fellows hear things or see what they should not. Again, they are frequently compelled to walk a half-mile or mile to their nearest point of getting on the school wagon. If the weather is bad or disagreeable the little fellow is the sufferer. It may be a saving proposition, and a means of increasing the salary of the teacher, but we do not believe in doing this at the expense of the small school. The teacher in the small school has more time and opportunity for doing better work, and should do it, than the teacher in the larger school. We are for the little red school house.

ENTIRE FAMILY WORKS ROAD.

(Caldiz Record.)

Mr. George McCraw, of the southern part of the county, was here Monday and informed us that a few days ago he and his good wife and their several children rode the half mile of road running along the front of his farm in first-class condition, even his little 2-year-old baby helping pick up rocks and drag dirt. This is indeed the proper spirit for the improvement of our roads, and if each person in the county would keep the road in front of his own premises in good repair, which could be done very easily, it would not be long until our roads would be in first-class condition.

TRANSPORTED 40,000 DOGS.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad last year transported 40,000 dogs, for which the road was paid 25 cents each. In transporting hunting dogs and pet canines the B. & O. derived a revenue of $10,000, all of which is properly credited to the baggage department. In handling this menagerie there was not a single claim for loss or injury.

It is easy to get around any one that you can see through.

DAVIESS COUNTY COURTHOUSE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Davies county courthouse was damaged by fire Tuesday night to the extent of about $2,000. The second floor and the lower floor were damaged by the water to about the same amount. The county school superintendent's office, which was on the lower floor directly under where the fire originated, was also damaged. The form for the county schools, which had cost the department several hundred dollars, and the records of the school work, which can not be replaced, were burned. The fire started in the north corner of the Circuit room.

WANTS TO BE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE.

Judge Roscoe Tartar, of Somerset, newly elected Representative from that district, is now publicly announcing himself as a candidate for Speaker of the House before both the Republican and Democratic caucuses. Judge Tartar has since the election been mentioned as a probable nominee against Caleb Powers for the Republican nomination for Congress.

BADLY INJURED

Was Clarence Dragon By a Large Log Rolling Over Him.

(Ripley Bee.)

The log was being held by a helper by means of a rope, but the man could not hold it and it got loose.

Clarence was caught by it before he could get out of its track.

Drs. Francis and Prime were called to attend his injuries. He was afterward brought to his home in town.

ADVERTISING AND PRICES.

Buyers of goods, whether advertised or not, often think: "Who pays these big advertising bills? When I buy, don't I pay my share of it? Doesn't the advertising cause prices to be higher. Doesn't it all come out of that universal victim—the Ultimate Consumer?"

This question is answered by an examination of the per cent of the selling price consumed in the cost of selling on goods which are extensively advertised and those which are not.

Among the largest advertisers in the country are two great clothing houses that sell men's and boys' clothing. These people who spend fortunes in advertising get their goods from their hands to the shelves of their customers at an expense of from 5 to 6 per cent of the selling price.

The average cost of selling goods which are not advertised is 12 per cent.

Instead of being a burden on the consumer, advertising is a boon to him. Advertising takes off his back half the burden of transportation from the manufacturer to himself. The advertisement is the lowest salaried agent in the world. If this were not true the best business men would not be the greatest advertisers. If there were a cheaper way of getting to the people the news about their goods, they would find it and use it.

The misfortune of the farmer is that he handles his goods in such small quantities that he can not economically advertise, and one of the benefits of a broad co-operation ought to be the possibility of using for the products of the farm that cheapest and best of all traveling men, the printed page, which makes its journey in a mail bag.

It is the patient workers, and the active, kindly, sympathetic men and women who hold the balance of things secure.
